CAREERS GUIDE

The MSS Careers Guide is an award-winning publication we release directly to students each year.

The Careers Guide covers many subjects which are helpful for students currently studying at Monash, and provides a framework for students to develop their futures.

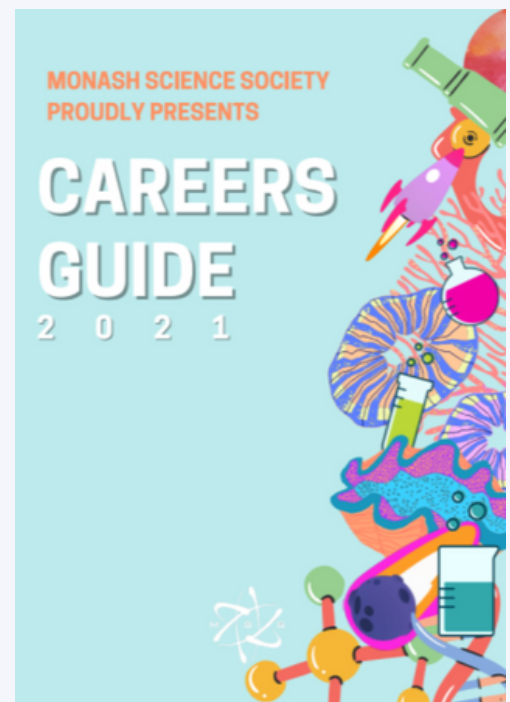

It features deep dives from the heads of respective faculties, student perspectives, key university tips and can influence career projections and showcase opportunities.

Exclusive opportunities

The careers guide provides direct exposure of your organisation to a wide, interdisciplinary audience. It is an opportunity to outline your organisation's philosophy, graduate opportunities and pathways with one of the following spreads:

- Half Page
- Full Page
- Double page

The careers guide will be distributed to hundreds of students electronically during industry week.

NETWORKING NIGHT

Each year the Monash Science Society, with support from the Faculty of Science at Monash, holds a careers night for current science students and upcoming graduates allowing them to learn about future career pathways.

Careers Night is a critical interactive opportunity to reach an audience of students actively seeking career opportunities.

Exclusive opportunities

- Distribution of promotional material to participants during the event and in advertising leading up to the event.
- Opportunity for your business to have representatives engage with event attendees at the careers night.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY BRUNCH

Our annual International Women's Day Brunch celebrates the achievements of women in science, bringing together students, professionals, and leaders for discussions on gender equality, career development, and leadership.

The International Women's Day Brunch offers a valuable opportunity to connect with students and professionals through inspiring discussions led by a panel of industry leaders.

Exclusive opportunities

- Showcase your business through distribution of promotional material to participants during the event and in advertising leading up to the event.
- Have your representatives network with students and professionals.
- Opportunity to have a company representative participate as a panelist.
